Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley Receives Donation

Labhart Miles Celebrates 10th Anniversary by Donating to Local Non-Profit

San Jose, CA (January 29, 2013) - Silicon Valley-based firm Labhart Miles Consulting Group, Inc. presented the Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley a $1,000 check this month. This donation was the eighth installment of Labhart Miles' $10,000 Charity Initiative, which will run through March 2013. A new charity will be selected to receive a gift each month in honor of the firm's 10th anniversary.

"Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley is very excited to be the recipient of Labhart Miles' donation," said Jennifer Makin, Special Events & Marketing Manager of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley. "Most importantly, interest in, and support of, our work with our community's deserving, yet underserved, young people."

The Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley has been enriching the lives of children in the Santa Clara Valley for more than six decades. By providing access to innovative programs, inspiring leaders and an enlightened perspective on life, they help children overcome boundaries and achieve their dreams.

"We're happy that our contribution will benefit the quality programs of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley which are a great benefit to our community's youth," said Monika Miles, President of Labhart Miles. "The point of our $10,000 Charity Initiative is to provide assistance to those organizations which benefit our community."

Labhart Miles will select charities in a variety of fields, from food banks and soup kitchens to children's organizations. In addition to non-profits that are near and dear to the principals' hearts, they're looking for causes that provide valuable service to the greater community.

About Boys & Girls Clubs of Silicon Valley
